INSTRUCTION

Consider everyday devices, tools, equipment, etc. around you. Take digital photographs and discuss the aspects of good and bad usability of each device. Submit a comprehensive, typed report on the usability of at least 6 items.

- The report should consist of the following:

- Cover page with group member details;

- Table of contents;

- For each item, each on a separate page:

    – Photo/picture;

    – Brief description of what it is / supposed to be used for;

    – In table format, good usability aspects in the left column and bad usability aspects in the right column;

    – References (where did you find the items).

- You may look at the colour pages in the middle of the text book for examples. You may of course not use any of these examples in your discussion.
